

You're A Star

Priscilla Ahn

Free you are free
Open up your heart and you will see
Love you are loved
Never forget that you're enough

When you're feeling all alone
Without a friend to call your own
Just remember who you are
And know you're a star

Time there is time
To find out who you are way down inside
Good you are good
Even if you are misunderstood

There's another one like you never knowing what to do
Just remember who you are
And know you're a star
You're a star

You're a star
(There will be some times when you're afraid)
You're a star
(There will be some times when you are brave)

Free you are free
Open up your heart and you will see

When you're feeling all alone
Without a friend to call your own
