

Billion star hotel

Private Line

I've rode through some deep shit, I've had those 8-pack laughs
Me and my six string - The only world we've ever had

Felt bumps hard as Braille, wind read my face some nights
Abuser or loser, pain just wets my appetite

No one ever knows, how the story goes
We float in fumes like dust through light, unknown
Me and my sweet misery go on and on and on and on
Who knows when we finally go
A way to check out and come back again
To the billion star hotel

Many may forget me, goodbye's the saddest song
Old smiles have lost their faces, but the melody still lingers on

No one ever knows, how the story goes
We float in fumes like dust through light, unknown
Me and my sweet misery go on and on and on and on

Who knows when we finally go
A way to check out and come back again
To the billion star hotel

Hope stalls and nights get longer
Than the roads beneath my feet
The sky's just tar and asphalt
Another endless street

No one ever knows, how their story goes
We're floating through the universe like ghosts
Me and my sweet misery go on and on and on and on
Who knows, once we're up and gone
A way to check out and come back again
To the billion star hotel

... You can tell... that hotel

No-one ever knows, how the story goes
We float in fumes like dust through light, unknown
We float in fumes like dust through light, unknown
