

Wake Up

Private Line

Hear the scream, the siren wails and your eyes fill with fear
Now beat by beat, my heart drifts away while you stand here
If all I did had any value
Then I would find a way to tell you
How this feels
So you would not grieve now
If I could save you from this sorrow
If I could let you know

Tonight I can't go on. I can see everything... everything
Shelter me and let me go
You're my everything
"Wake up now" They still shout: "Just wake up"

Year by year, I dropped my memories inside your ears
I do concede, the flaws I saw in you were mine concealed
Wish I'd be there for you tomorrow
Wish you could only know

Tonight I can't go on. I can see everything... everything
Shelter me and let me go
You're my everything
"Wake up now"

Don't you know it's my voice when you're singing now
Don't you know I'm still warm when you're feeling proud
Don't you know I'm there?
I breathe with your breath

Don't you know it's my tears flowing from your eyes
Won't you show me you know what to do with your life?
Don't you know I'm there?
I breathe with your breath
A light flows through us all
It keeps everything...everything

I can't go without you
I know you are my home
I can't go on... You're my everything...
Everything... everything
