

Iraqnophobia

Pro-Pain

miles and miles of soldiers deployed on foreign sand fighting for your freedom your oil and your land technology is efficient when bark turns to bite so wake up america, stand up for your rights oh say can't you see that the conscience in me

said go back

when the clouds in the skies and the tears in my eyes turned to black
there's a fear i may die in a chemical weapons attack

massive destruction from coalition planes pulverize the enemy, bashing in their brains and agony is unparalleled yet they beg for more we've only just begun so sit back, enjoy the war

turned to black

torturing prisoners, flashbacks of nam you can't stop the punishment, signals are jammed brainwashing moslems from central command mohammed's no match for the great uncle sam
