

I can't believe what I'm feeling now
After all that time I was far down Their broken lives should show the way far past anything they say

I can't resist anything you give Every single part of the way you live
I don't know if this is so right but I will never forget this night

I'll make this forever
and take you here with me
I'll make this forever
It's what I need

This is the end of what's always been
All the hate they bring doesn't mean a thing
When you're in this place standing here with me Everything I need I can almost see

Why am I so alone
When there's so many around Everyone now is not the same as I slowly drift away

I'll make this forever
and take you here with me
I'll make this forever
It's what I need