Genosha

Project 86

You made your getaway so clean
You don't even see the one you're mutating
I once believed
You left because you saw something wrong in me

So many years I've been searching
Looking for where I went wrong

I would wait so long
For you to return to me
Will you come home?
I would wait so long
Did I Push you away
Where did I go wrong?

I became the beast
For a time I sought solace in sorcery
Then she came to me
And I could see I'm not a devil…
My blood is clean

So many years I've been searching
Looking for where I belong
But lately the masks have been turning
Cause I'm not the one who is wrong

I will wait no more
Your wounds won't define me
I have come home
I will wait no more
Your wounds won't define me
I have come home

Walk away
Abandon me
But nothing will
Disable me
