

Omerta's Sons

Project 86

My eyes are opening
In disbelief
There's something growing here inside of me
I've always sensed it
Can you believe
That we were born into conspiracy?

You were always the cancer
And I, the host
You were always the living
And I, the ghost

Out from your shadow now we are immortal
From bound and broken to invincible
The truth unveiled now, spirits will tremble
From bound and broken to invincible

We're bound to secrecy
Like Omerta's sons
But now I'm tracking you in your deception
Contrive an answer
Explain to me
The rationale behind your treachery
Now there are finally answers
Despite your plans
Now I am killing your cancer
Because I can

Out from your shadow now we are immortal
From bound and broken to invincible
The truth unveiled now, spirits will tremble
From bound and broken to invincible

If I was a son to you in deceit
Am I dead to you in honesty?
If we were brothers in cowardice
Are we enemies in bravery?

Out from your shadow now we are immortal
From bound and broken to invincible
The truth unveiled now, spirits will tremble
From bound and broken to invincible

Out from your shadow now we are immortal
From bound and broken to invincible
The truth unveiled now, spirits will tremble
From bound and broken to invincible
