

Lying on the floor
Looking to you
I'm so bored so bored
What if you didn't loved me
Like I loved you
Your smooth grace pleased me
I gave you everything I could
It wasn't enough for you

You you lied to me
So I had I had to do
Something against my pain against my pain
You lie there like
A flower in the snow
Do something against my pain

You senseless careless nothing
I'm lying by your side
As you're getting colder

The good times the bad times
We had no fade away

You you lied to me
So I had I had to do
Something against my pain against my pain
You lie there like
A flower in the snow
Do something against my pain

You you lied to me

You lie there like
A flower in the snow
Do something against my pain
