Promise of Redemption

Close your eyes and let the song take you away to
The summer nights you dream of
Growing up under the stars
And the breeze as it kisses your face
Let it take you away to the places you dreamed of You always wanted to be loved
I hope you're at peace

I sit here and I think about all them days I haven't had
And I pray that angels led you in Your pictures by my side
I keep memories in my head
I see it well
I hope you're at peace

I miss you here, tonight it's clear
That the lights don't shine as bright
And all this change
Turns love to pain
So for now I'll close my eyes and I'll dream these nights away

Close your eyes and let the song take you away to
The summer nights you dreamed of
Growing up under the stars
And me, like when I kissed those lips
I could never forget the love that we had
Oh my, my Dana Leigh
I hope you're at peace
