

Put Myself to Sleep

Prong

Don't feel too strong about anything
Getting more difficult to breathe
Bad memories from the past
Dissension, difficulty at best

Disinterested in what's the right way
Disillusioned by what's wrong

Put myself to sleep
The tension of need
Put myself to sleep
No longer living a dream

Consistently lying in between
What could be worse of all routine?
Distressed by matters of fact
Kept awake, I won't react

Don't give me part of the blame game
Pay attention to my namesake

Put myself to sleep
The tension of need
Put myself to sleep
No longer living a dream

Don't you know you're a witness to the dark days of our lives
With a bit of resistance, you fail to realize
With a bit of persistence, may the light shine on your life
Don't you know when a witness your world just passes by

Put myself to sleep (put myself to sleep)
No longer living a dream

Put myself to sleep
The tension of need
Put myself to sleep
No longer living a dream

Put myself to sleep
To sleep
Put myself to sleep
