Unfortunately

Prong

Confusions born here every day Spinning circles upon my brain No idea which way to go Roam around without a home

So fucking lost, invalidated So brought down demasculated All the joy just disappeared Another bed full of tears

Hope dissolved, degenerated The negative has penetrated No wish for sympathy It's all a mystery to me

Coming apart at the seams
Wanna be alone for the rest of my years
Don't come inside
Leave it to me to go on unfortunately
Unfortunately

Confusions born here every day Spinning circles upon my brain No idea which way to go Roam around without a home

All my wishes evaporated
Insecurities saturated
So many flaws reappeared
The wrong way I tend to steer

Coming apart at the seams
Wanna be alone for the rest of my years
Don't come inside
Leave it to me to go on unfortunately
Unfortunately, unfortunately, unfortunately
