Lost Cause

Protest the Hero

Without diversity, in our society where the hell would we stand? we whine and complain, about things we will never explain instead of dealing with the problems at hand I strongly believe, that the fight has begun its hard to repair the damage we've done if you haven't yet guess, I'm speaking of yes this ignorance that we ignore and this lack of respect, if enough to make me sick and no I won't get over it until you stop treating me like shit
