Just A Little Bit Down

Psychopunch

If you take the time and slow it down for a while – let Me explain
Why all the things we held so close are pouring in the Rain

Itʹs not all that bad not even way to sad – when weʹre
Apart
I took it all for granted and it really broke your Heart

Hey little misery – you need my company all night and Day
I left you cold and stranded crying in your shallow
Grave

Itʹs just the way it is hereʹs the goodbye kiss on Planet joy
Well lovinʹ ainʹt so easy for the worlds forgotten boy

I could have lied but Iʹm not that kind of guy
And there ainʹt no perfect angels in the sky
Confide or bleed – the tragedy of life is all you need

Iʹm a little bit down and my world is shaking
And my mind goes blank when youʹre leaving town
Just a little bit down and a little crazy
And all these years feels like doing time
Mama always told me treat them kind

Just a little bit down and a little crazy
And all these years feels like doing time
Mama always told me treat them kind

She always thought I was the dream boy
Now sherʹs crying on the floor
All the time I was the killjoy
Now Iʹm walking out that door and I wonʹt come back for
