

Heart Attack

Punchline

You told me to turn the other way
I did, I thought it was OK
Now I hear that you're never coming back
And I'm about to have a heart attack

Medication won't work this time
I'll just sit here, singing this rhyme
You're never coming back
And I'll have a heart attack
How could you do this to me?

Despite my pain, I got in my car
Had just enough strength to make it to the ER
I was long gone when you heard about my death
"Explore the memories" is what I said with my last breath

Medication won't work this time
I'll just sit here, singing this rhyme
You're never coming back
And I'll have a heart attack
How could you do this to me?
