I'm A Family Man

Pungent Stench

Hate was pushed away by sorrow Now I'm just waiting for tomorrow They will make my life a sudden end Death is the punishment for me I feel so lonely here Memories are the only thing what remained Hell is waiting now for me There we'll meet again you'll see You disappointed me so bad So I shot a bullet in your head I am in jail now Waiting in my cold cell To die News - Radio, TV they call me the family man Psychopathic killer - Or blood daddy from hell But in the heat of the moment, don't you forget I'm the type of quy who thinks his family Has to be perfect eventually Mary-Ann - She was my daughter and only sixteen years old when she died Because she didn't listen to me - She listened to those rock'n roll bands I caught her kissing this boy - In front of my door These are the reasons why I ripped out the guts of that godless little whore I'm a family man and I do what I can To keep everything under control I'm a family man Angela - She was my wife and thirty five years when she died Because she didn't understand me - She always supported Mary-Ann She said this girl is old enough for having a boyfriend This is the reason why I shot her down and made her sinful life an end I'm a family man and I do what I can To keep everything under control I'm a family man
