

Sometime ago we didn't know forgivin
And it ended somewhere else you'd rather be
But with empty chairs the rooms are bear to live in
Oh I wished you'd been around to comfort me

Now if you are alone tonight
Let home be your guiding light
There's a star again always when you're feeling blue
Darling home I'll be waiting for you

The curtains that I've closed since you been goin
Could forever keep the sun from shining in
The flowers all have lost their sense of growing
And I wonder if they'll ever grow again

Now if you are alone tonight
Let home be your guiding light
There's a star again always when you're feeling blue
Darling home I'll be waiting for you
