Rain

Pussycat

Loving him was easier one sunny day Just a simple touch could make me fly away Kisses on a summer evening Looking at a perfect sleeving for the sky Should I wonder why? I can feel the falling rain I can feel the falling rain Its sad to be alone So please don't take me home Rain falling down on me You may cover the trace of tears on my face He'd rather see Rain rain falling everywhere On a bright summer morning he'll call again Don't let him try in vain Feel the rain Trees are crying rivers down the cloudy hill Raindrops chase away the lonely daffodil Memories of loving last night looking at the broken twilight Maybe I shouldn't wonder why I can feel the falling rain I can feel the falling rain
