

I was demanding to be the oh so strong
Truth be told i only want myself to tag along
Following my shadow, loaded with guilt
See what i didn't know was that, patching up only
Makes a quilt

Have to much pleasure from illusions of right
It seems id rather loose a friend then a fight
But i'm not young enough to know everything
See what i do know is
My alter ego is up-coming

I'm slippin
Cause i cant get me off of this throne
I'm slippin
Its too much of a comfort zone
I'm slippin
Cause i cant get me off this throne
I'm slippin
Cause i cant get me off of this throne its too
Much of a comfort zone

Use persuasion as my strongest approach
I preach my wisdom as a neat friendly poach
Respect you don't get, its something you owe
If your can't do what i do its cause
You reap what you sow

Taking my time sharing my week
Yeah i am good at listening when i hear myself
Speak
Once i swell attention tasted
Enough want do
Every weekend i am wasted

I'm slippin...

Once i swell attention tasted
Enough want to
Every weekend i'm wasted
