You've got a diamond ring
It's just another hollow thing
You've got your career
You chose boredom over fear
You've got a righteous cause
All I see are fatal flaws
All I see are fatal flaws

you've got the newest style
It won't be new in a little while
You've got the future too
I don't mind leaving that to you
You've got plans and goals
All I see is full of holes
All I see is full of holes

you've got the human race
You've got Jesus just in case
You've got your eternity
A few short years is enough for me
I've got my defiance
You've got your genetic science
You've got your genetic science
