

Just One Life

Queen

I did not know you, our lives never touched
'Til the day they gathered, to bid you farewell
And they painted your picture
And as I looked around, I felt I saw you
In the words and the sound
Your talent came flowing, through the stories they tell
And through the faces of those who loved you so well
Your life gave them a treasure, a piece of themselves
Something they carry, and still serves them well
Just one life, just one life, just one life
That is born, and is, and is gone
Just one life
And I'm so glad to know you, as I know you now
Perhaps inside you, you were messed up like me
But to them you were whole and strong
And a friend in their need
And what you left behind you and what swept over me
Says that your life's work rolls on and on
A piece of eternity
Just one life, just one life, just one life
That is born, and is, and is gone
Just one life
Did you ever have a chance to find out
What life is all about
I did not know you, our lives never touched
'Til the day we gathered, to say our farewells
