

Delicate

Queensberry

Delicate Delicate Delicate

Our love was precious and nothing could compare
You always knew how to handle me with care
Thought it was real but now it feels just like a dream

You were my shelter my rainbow in the storm
We made a promise never to resaw
But now its all done and its ripping at the seeings

I wanna turn back (time)
I want, I want to (I feel the strenght inside, its inside)

You know Im gonna break without you dont let me go
And how could you shake the ground that we been standing on, standing on
I thought I was safe I dont understand
I put my life in your hands
You know Im gonna break without you now Im delicate (delicate delicat
e)

Something so precious is cracking from within Words that you promised as lonely were ending
Gave in to you, now you giving in on me

First I believed what was written in your eyes
Now youre destroying the story of my life
I was so blind, I was just to blind to see

I, but I dont wanna let (go)
Cause youre all I know (cause youre all ive known, all I know)

You know Im gonna break without you dont let me go
And how could you shake the ground that we been standing on
I thought I was safe I dont understand
I put my life in your hands
You know Im gonna break without you now Im delicate (delicate delicat
e)

Delicate
I, but I dont wanna let Cause youre all I
From straight inside

You know Im gonna break without you dont let me go
And how could you shake the ground that we been standing on
I thought I was safe I dont understand
I put my life in your hands
You know Im gonna break without now Im delicate
