

The Season

Quietdrive

I'm feeling mixed up
A little bit confused
When everything is left unsaid
I'm feeling left out
A little bit concerned
I'll play it out in my head
But I'm still afraid that you haven't changed
Give me a reason to pull off your t-shirt
But I'm still okay, And I don't know why
Tell me your secret I won't tell your boyfriend now
When you say that
You're mixing me up now
You're pulling my teeth out
You're wishing my argument away
I'll follow directions
I'll stick to your reasons
This isn't the season to go running away...
I'll leave you untouched,
I never understood
I never questioned why you came
I wanna hit it up
But your still in charge
I know you'll be back one day
But I'm still afraid that you haven't changed
Give me a reason to pull off your t-shirt
But I'm still okay, And I don't know why
Tell me your secret I won't tell your boyfriend now
When you say that
You don't need me to feel
You're mixing me up now
You're pulling my teeth out
You're wishing my argument away
I'll follow directions
I'll stick to your reasons
This isn't the season to go running away...
But you don't understand, you don't
I can't tell you how to feel
When I'm on the outside
And you're all in
You're mixing me up now
You're pulling my teeth out
You're wishing my argument away
I'll follow directions
I'll stick to your reasons
This isn't the season to go running away...
You don't understand
