

World War U

Quietdrive

(You're tearing me open)

The path to hell is paved with good intent
A lifetime of lies has taught me this
You can't lose what you don't put in, in

So is this something? Was it nothing?
Well, it's whatever I say it is
You're the good girl, I'm the bad guy
Now it's time for you to leave

So tell me what you came here for
To start another world war
Your love is like an open wound
That's bleeding, you're unforgivable
I can't show all these feelings that I can't let go
Just leave me, are we done here?
You're unforgivable

First you tell me it's over, please start it up again
You're stepping on my heart, I'm gonna count to ten
Cause I've been thinking about what you've said
And where you've been, who you are
What you've done to me

So tell me what you came here for
To start another world war
Your love is like an open wound
That's bleeding, you're unforgivable
And of all the times you said goodbye
I promise this is the last time
Can you hear me? Are we done yet?
You're so, you're so unforgivable

Is this what you want?
Cause I can't take anymore
(You're tearing me open)
(You're tearing me open)

So tell me what you came here for
To start another world war
Your love is like an open wound
That's bleeding, you're unforgivable
And of all the times you said goodbye
I promise this is the last time
Can you hear me? Are we done yet?
You're so, you're so unforgivable

(You're tearing me open) you're so unforgivable
(You're tearing me open) you're so unforgivable
