

I Lost a World Today

Quill

Lay down your load it is dreamtime season
To follow a dream you never need a reason
You have to kill for the crown
Or you'll find that the only road leads down

Shine on down the road to freedom
We're all riding the same wave
I said shine, 'cause we're heading for Eden
I guess your right I lost a world today

Bring up the dust time to leave your quarters
Kick in the mud for some holy water
You have to kill for the crown
Or you'll find that the only road leads down
