

Overload

Quill

I've been cursing my holy maker
Now I'm watching your earth from below
Been drowning myself with a spoonful of wine
Just to see where the journey might go

I've been aching to live in your garden
So I'm building a hole in the wall
Yeah I'm sipping the greed it was what I believed
To be fuel for my poor dying soul

Let me be overlord
I need to satisfy myself
Let me be overlord
Nothing is real of the things I can see
I am watching your earth from below

I have seen with the eyes of the future
I've been living a daydream too long
Been exploring the moon with my needle and spoon wish tomorrow, my yesterday's gone

Let me be overlord
I need to satisfy myself
Let me be overlord
Nothing is real of the things I can see
I am watching your earth from below
