

Lay Your Head Down

R5

Lay your head down with me, darling
Pick your heart up off the floor
If you need some, give me something
I know, I know

Head down, so you hide, a drug for my eyes
I've been needing something, you've needing something maybe a little too much
Slow down, anytime, no, you don't need to rush
I've been drinking something, you've drinking something, maybe a little too much

'Cause all my days seem like they were getting so lonely lately
I couldn't take it much longer, baby, oh, baby
So tell me, baby, do you feel like I do all you crave?
Someone to hold you and as the sun comes up besides the stars

Lay your head down with me, darling
Pick your heart up off the floor
If you need some, give me something
You know, yeah, I know
Lay your head down with me, darling
Pick your heart up off the floor
If you need some, give me something
You know, yeah, I know

Face found, Calvin Klein, her bank don't need love
I've been dreaming so much, you've been dreaming some, maybe a little too much
Flow down to a Nile, the rum is dyed blue
We've been drinking something, we've been drinking something, maybe a little too much

The days just seem keeping me high, high enough to carry
Give me your stories to go, oh, baby, oh, baby
So tell me, baby, feeling the love that I'm feeling lately
Nowhere I'd rather be as the sun comes up besides the stars

Lay your head down with me, darling
Pick your heart up off the floor
If you need some, give me something
You know, yeah, I know
Lay your head down with me, darling
Pick your heart up off the floor
If you need some, give me something
You know, yeah, I know

'Cause all my days seem like they were getting so lonely lately
I couldn't take it much longer, baby, oh, baby

Lay your head down with me, darling
Pick your heart up off the floor
If you need some, give me something
You know, yeah, I know
Lay your head down with me, darling
Pick your heart up off the floor
If you need some, give me something

You know, yeah, I know
