Far Enough

It's on my face It's in my feelings The scars that carry on your name You fold your arms You don't believe me You don't like to think you cause me pain

Yet here I am Your worst creation A solless reckless imbecile Don't turn away You can't ignore it It's what you wanted all the while

You've taken this far enough You think but you're not so tough You've taken this far enough from me

I'm getting bored With isolation I'm getting sick of all your crap You stare me down But you don't see me You do the crime I take the wrap

If someone saw this They'd say it's crazy If someone saw this they'd probably lose their mind So now I'm done You can't evade me There's someone else I need to find

You've taken this far enough You think but you're not so tough You've taken this far enough from me You've taken this far enough I'm so sick of all your stuff You've taken this far enough from me You're stuck in a fantasy But my heart knows what's real There's nothing left to say

Maybe

Maybe im not meant to be You cannot? for reality Look around and close your eyes You'll get the message in disguise

You've taken this far enough You think but you're not so tough You've taken this far enough from me You've taken this far enough I'm so sick of all your stuff You've taken this far enough from me You've taken this far enough from me Tištěno z www.txp.cz
