

Remedy

Rachael Lampa

I know where to go
To heal my heart, to soothe my soul
When everything—things spinning out of control, I know
I know just living life can get so crazy day and night
But I've got somebody by my side, by my side
Every time I cry and I wanna hide
Feeling like I'm damaged on the inside
You know just what to do

You've got what I need
You're the remedy
That's why I'm keeping You close, You close
You know what's best for me
My only therapy
Jesus Your love is my hope, my hope
You're my remedy, You're my remedy
(You're my remedy)
You're my remedy, You're my remedy

On point, off track
One step forward, two steps back
Some days are gonna be just like that
Just like that
You're my medicine
Relieve my pain again and again
Always take me back no matter where I've been, where I've been
Every time I'm hurt and it doesn't work
Feeling like it never could get any worse
I go running to You

You've got what I need
You're the remedy
That's why I'm keeping You close, You close
(You're my remedy)
You know what's best for me
My only therapy
Jesus Your love is my hope, my hope

You've got what I need
You're the remedy
That's why I'm keeping You close, You close
(You're my remedy)
You know what's best for me
My only therapy
Jesus Your love is my hope, my hope

And every time I come knocking at Your door
You make me feel like I'm the only one that You adore
The only one You do this for
The only one that You call yours, I'm Yours

You've got what I need
You're the remedy
That's why I'm keeping You close,
(You're my remedy)
You know what's best for me
My only therapy

Jesus Your love is my hope, my hope
You're my remedy, You're my remedy
You're my remedy, You're my remedy
(You're my remedy)
You're my remedy, You're my remedy
You're my remedy, You're my remedy
