

Clear Today

Rachael Sage

It's clear today I am gonna leave you
Even though I love you it's just not enough
What's there to say? I'm waiting for disaster now
When you come home it's gonna come down

What am I gonna say after loving you all these years
What am I gonna do to wipe away all these tears
'Cause love is never over even though it's not the same
And looking in the mirror I have never felt such pain

It's clear today I am gonna miss you
Every time I kiss you I'm gonna see the end
What's there to say? My heart is beating faster now
When you come home it's gonna break down

What am I gonna say after loving you all this time
What am I gonna do to wipe away this true crime
'Cause love is never over even though it's not the same
And looking in the mirror I have never felt such pain...such pain...such pain

Come with me...we'll go back to the time when we were young lovers
Come save me from eventuality before we became who we'd be
When we so cruelly deeply hurt each other
