

Some may say that you are beautiful
Some may say that you are wise
Beyond your years but I have only ever known you as
The girl who dragon-slayed surprise

Some may say that you're an angel
But I know better 'cause I've seen
You wrap yourself around somebody else's anger and Suck out the poison 'til you're clean

I know you think that I have wronged you
'Cause I have told you like it is
But I'm not scared of being someone who reminds you of
Who you were when you followed your bliss

Loreena, I don't wanna lose you
You think that I've accused you but I've loved you in my time
Loreena, I would always choose you
You think that I've misused you, I'm committed as a crime

Some may say that you are talented
That you're no stranger to allure
But in the time of kings and queens you'd have been legendary
You would have redefined demure

I know you think that I have crossed you
'Cause I have dared to cast a light
But I'm not scared of being someone who reminds you
Of who you were before all of this spite

Loreena, I don't wanna lose you
You think that I've accused you but I've loved you in my time
Loreena, I would always choose you
You think that I've misused you, I'm committed as a crime

Is it any wonder...that I still feel this way
Is it any wonder...that I can't look away

Loreena, I don't wanna lose you
You think that I've accused you but I've loved you in my time
Loreena, I would always choose you
You think that I've misused you, I'm committed as a crime
