

Try Try Try

Rachael Sage

He gave me something that I could believe in
He gave me something made me try, try, try
He gave me something that I could not leave and
He hid a hello in goodbye bye, bye

It wasn't hard to make him understand me
He turned my pages like a pirouette
He made me feel just like a farmer's daughter
Who couldn't wait to get her boots all wet

I know you're afraid of grieving and
I'll give you my open heart
You'll own keys to every room inside
My haunted house o' magic in the dark, dark, dark

He wrapped his arms around me like a blanket
He spun a web around me like a spell
He flung an anchor through my ship and sank it
I never knew that I could drown so well

I know you're afraid of grieving and
I'll give you my open heart
You'll own keys to every room inside
My haunted house o' magic in the dark, dark, dark

I wanna be where you can't see
You can only hear
Words in the way, nothing can say
What kisses can steal

I know you're afraid of grieving and
I'll give you my open heart
You'll own keys to every room inside
My haunted house o' magic in the dark, dark, dark