

Has It Happened Yet

Rachael Yamagata

Has anybody shared our bed yet?
Was it heavy? Was it hard?
Checked the time on the clock I used to set
On the jacket that I bought
Just for you when I was on the road
To remind you that I didn't forget
All the things that I shared with you
Has anybody done that yet?

Has anybody found the red shoes?
Have they found my cigarettes?
Have you gone back to the restaurant
That we'd go when we first met?
And are you starting to make promises?
Have you started taking bets
That it's better on the next round?
Has anybody done that yet?

Has it happened yet?
I am readying myself for a change
Has it happened yet?
I am trying to start again
Has it happened yet?
Is she living with all was mine?
If it hasn't happened yet
It will in time

I've got bad news for my heart
When two lives are torn apart
There is nothing you can claim
And no matter how you wish it
Nothing will ever be the same

Has anybody found the way to you?
Does anyone know what you need?
Does anyone remind you
The way we used to be?
And are you starting to make promises
That you made to me?
Has anybody found the secret?
Has anybody done that yet?

Has it happened yet?
I am readying myself for a change
Has it happened yet?
I am trying to start again
Has it happened yet?
Is she living with all was mine?
If it hasn't happened yet
It will in time
It will in time
Has it happened yet...?
