Keep Going

Rachael Yamagata

Carry me for a while It's your turn to lend a hand Carry you for a while When you need me I'll be there And the walls that keep us in the war Will come down Follow me It's your turn For this world has got to learn That the only way to change our history Is for me to follow you sometimes And for you to follow me And the doors we never made it through start opening Oh I need you and you need me Trust in me I'll be true You can trust me and I'll trust you If I falter you'll forgive me I'll forgive you What I don't have you will bring And I'll be there for anything And we all will find a way to keep going Yes we all will find a way to keep going
