

Would You Please

Rachael Yamagata

Would you please
let me slide a few words
under your door
And would you please
under your door

The first three say "I Love You"
The last five "But I can't no more"
I don't believe in miracles
Not like I did before

And would you please
Let me slide a few words
under your door
And would you please
try to understand

There's a paragraph or two devoted to the memories that we shared in the dramatized songs about how there'll be no more memories
No more memories

And if you'll notice in the corner there's a tiny little heart I've enclosed Like a little surprise (Oh Yes I did)
And if you'll please ignore the smeared smudged writing
It came from the tears in my eyes

You're probably gonna get it
After a long day
You may not even believe it's true
I know you know, you know, you know my crazy ways

Yeah, but Sleeping Beauty is going to bed
She put a little tiny hole in her own head
Gotta find her own way home
Before she's dead

Yeah, but Sleeping Beauty is going to bed
She put a little tiny hole in her own head
Gotta find her own way home
Before she's dead

Woah Sleeping Beauty is going to bed
She put a little tiny hole in her own head
Gotta find her own way home
Before she's dead
Before she's dead
Before she's dead
