Lozenge of Love

Radiohead

I am gone Everybody's raging And these fruits They still taste of poison I won't be around When you really need me

I can't sleep Why can't someone hold me I need warmth A restless body cracks some more I won't have the strength When you really need me