

Mirror Mirror

Rah Digga

Ha ha! Let's Go!

[verse 1:]

I walk through the streets tryin to figure out why I captivate people when I don't even try it's like all the things I took for granted but now that I'm older I surely understand it every single day tryin to carry out tasks celebrating another birthday life's moving too fast every minute, hour, each day, and night make sure I keep focused and keep my mind right never knowing what drama that life could bring in spiration and word with every song I sing making sure that I'm not overcome with greed got enough security for my seed it go like any given day I could take fifty grand snatch her outta school and head to disneyland, or maybe just Toys R' Us and the mall her life is straight baby girl gonna have it all

[chorus:]

Mirror mirror on the wall who gonna survive? who be next to fall? it might be today it might be tomorrow so until I get the call I'm a say I did it all

Mirror mirror on the wall who gonna survive? who be next to fall? it might be today it might be tomorrow so until I get the call I'm a say I did it all

[verse 2:]

Mom and dad taught me to stay outta trouble but no one can prepare you for life's inner struggles the test of your courage when you're scared to death or the test of Faith winning sinners right and left the test of your strength when you're making life choices, I swear swear sometimes I be hearing strange voices following advice my grandma gave me, crazy think I've been seeing her lately she told me nothing in life was free be nice to folks who are nice to me to turn the other cheek in most confrontations no matter how bleak the situation oh, but most things I had to learn on my own like what I'm gonna do by the time I got grown would've been nice to see a baby in a movie multimedia your truly, c'mon

[chorus:]

Mirror mirror on the wall who gonna survive? who be next to fall? it might be today it might be tomorrow so until I get the call I'm a say I did it all

Mirror mirror on the wall who gonna survive? who be next to fall? it might be today it might be tomorrow so until I get the call I'm a say I did it all

Mirror mirror on the wall who gonna survive? who be next to fall? it might be today it might be tomorrow so until I get the call I'm a say I did it all

[verse 3:]

The moral of the story is who knows what glory is? who just idling who the real warrior is? who the type that make their own fate? who the go-getters? who sit back and wait? went from hangi ng on a park bench to a range rover with darken tints 5-bedroom apartments never fear new music was my calling whatever else c ome Digga Digga put her all in it at this point I figure any pa th I'm at whether sing, rap, or act, or just fade to black now wonder why I motivate like that? so I can live like a baller ev en if I don't play I'm a tell you this much I'm a always have a plan can't leave you well-being in somebody else hands the cho ice is yours I'm a do my bit cause everybody dies but not every body lives

[chorus:]

Mirror mirror on the wall who gonna survive? who be next to fal l? it might be to day it might be tomorrow so until I get the c all I'm a say I did it all

Mirror mirror on the wall who gonna survive? who be next to fal l? it might be to day it might be tomorrow so until I get the c all I'm a say I did it all

Mirror mirror on the wall who gonna survive? who be next to fal l? it might be to day it might be tomorrow so until I get the c all I'm a say I did it all

Mirror mirror on the wall who gonna survive? who be next to fal
l? it might be to day it might be tomorrow so until I get the c all I'm a say I did it all

Ha ha!

Other Rah Digga songs