

Mo Better

Raheem DeV Vaughn

Even... even if I don't have much to my name
And through the ups and downs it come with faith in my life
You pat me on the back and rub away the pain cause your my baby
, my darlin
Priceless... You're priceless, no dollar amount can buy the fri endship you bring
You are the first lady worthy of a king... my queen
The momment I set eyes on you I knew I would fall

See life ain't so bad after all
You make it better, better, better, better
You make it better, You make it better, You make it better, You make it, You make it better,
You make it better, better, better, better
You make it better, You make it better, You make it better, You make it better... I know your love gets more better, more bett er with time

Like a rainbow cutting through to take out the clouds
When you come around girl and make me smile It's a joy to hear you say things will work out some how Cause you're my baby, my darlin
So promise, promise me and I'll promise you Promise and I'll make a vow to, to you girl Cause from the momment I set eyes on you I ken that fairy tales come true

See life ain't so bad after all
You make it better, better, better, better
You make it better, You make it better, You make it better, You
make it, You make it better,
You make it better, better, better, better
You make it better, You make it better, You make it better, You make it better... I know your love gets more better, more bett er with time

Now I Know I'm kind of young but I got an old soul
So I'm a break it down for you for a momment
And tell you how much I appretiate you When you whisper in my ear "Baby It Will Be Okay", You make it better
Rub My body after a hards days work, You make it better Wakin up to you in the morning, You make it better Late in the midnight hour, You make it better Now I can be the riches man on earth and not have much at all
But we got something priceless

See life ain't so bad after all

You make it better, better, better, better
You make it better, You make it better, You make it better, You
make it, You make it better,
You make it better, better, better, better
You make it better, You make it better, You make it better, You make it better... I know your love gets more better, more bett er with time
