

I want you to know, I'm not the enemy and I know that this could be the death of me Rip apart my soul till I can barely breath
I need know you still believe in me.

Remember what we are fighting for I know its hard when we're all alone But I'll try to always keep pushing on to make this life one worth living.

I, I'm not the enemy
and I won't let this be the death of me
No, I won't give my life away
I feel like I can finally see.

I'm I good enough to focus your attention?
through tough times we barely get a mention but I will shorten all the burden one last time and hope were not avoiding our Downfall from all that we've created it breaks my heart to think we'd end it so lets try to always keep pushing on

to make this life one worth living.

I, I'm not the enemy
and I won't let this be the death of me
No, I won't give my life away
I feel like I can finally see.

Believe in me don't let me down, don't let me down and i won't be the enemy the enemy the enemy tonight.

I, I'm not the enemy
and I won't let this be the death of me
No, I won't give my life away
I feel like I can finally see.
