

You Ignore Them All

Raised Fist

The conflict has been fierce from the start. Too many people a lot of brain and a lot of heart. Building the foundation of violence to be.
Bloodstain on the VCR, radio and the TV.

Acting like we didn't see this coming. Ignoring all the bombings and the war with the king who's pulling the strings. He's on top of the food chain but without the wings.

I can't live with this, need to take a stand we need to resist. If nothing really happens I'm truly ashamed and I might start a riot and take full blame.

Sending your judgements on the weaker, poorer, sicker you ignore them all because you're smaller and you want to put yourself high up in the sky, can I ask you why.

I know I should be better but I cannot take this shit I'm just a stupid guy I'm the first to admit. You say you have no part. I'm not gonna buy it. The same type of lie, I got a big supply of it.
