

Destiny has brought you here
Escaping from the claws of fear
To this unknown realm of secrecy and pain
What can you trust? What is real?
What does this chasm in your mind conceal?
Who are you? Gazing in to the abyss
Secrets, darkness, mental void
Awaken, blinding thoughts destroy
Words of truth are calling you
Desolation is the saviour they can never subdue
Serpents are rising in darkness
Uncoiling in obscurity
To crack the cross and scorn the laws
To greet death and feel it's claws
You need a mind of steel and a burning soul
To turn your back on the indolent world
And see barren wastelands unfurl
You need a will divine and a treaty with the unknown
The sting of truth, behind the masque
Lightbringer
