

A Power Inside

Rancid

There's a power in a human, there's a power inside
There's a power inside every man alive
There's a power in a human, there's a power inside
There's a power inside every man alive
There's a power inside every man alive

When I look into your empty pockets
The storm is nothing, cause it's already here
Look into an honest man's eyes now
Oh, the only thing you're gonna see is fear

There's a power in a human, there's a power inside
There's a power inside every man alive
There's a power in a human, there's a power inside
There's a power inside every man alive
There's a power inside every man alive

Know what it's like to be alone now
What it's like not to have a friend
Some make [?] get a foe now baby
But the union's gonna be here all the way to the end

There's a power in a human, there's a power inside
There's a power inside every man alive
There's a power in a human, there's a power inside
There's a power inside every man alive
There's a power inside every man alive
