

I wanna go where the action is I wanna fly through the urban blight

I wanna live like a shadow in the dark and only move at night
A story bought, a one story house that lets the winter bleed
21 years old and no money to read

How did she know the roof would cave in
Over and over again
Beat up bruised a record that's broken
Adina's crying again

Beat up chevy with a trailer in tow is what they call home now
One more hill or river to cross on on the way to another town
Crying in her beer & always running away
Maybe not so much running but hoping for better days

How did she know the roof would cave in
Over and over again
Beat up bruised a record that's broken
Adina's crying again
