

Let Me Go

Rancid

OK, check this out...

It aint impossible, it aint easy
Opportunities shiftin' here
So far the strategy aint workin'
The facts are in, it's so... very clear
I do what I want, I can't predict the future
And those who can, I know that they are lyin'
And then the truth can be hard to swallow
In a soap opera world leaders are cryin'

Correction, I need no direction
Let me go just one last time
I spent my whole life searchin' for direction
Let me go just one last time

You can burn a book if you don't like the answers
Or join forces with an axe grind
U.S.A. protecting your cancers
A list of hatred's easy to find
And there's a growing sentiment in America
If you listen closely you can hear them all
Right is right, wrong is wrong
And the evil considered bad behavior

Correction, I need no direction
Let me go just one last time
I spent my whole life searchin' for direction
Let me go just one last time

Bad generations, polarized view
No one leaves home to go and help you
Watch CNN and then you know
US bombs come down and whatcha gonna do
Boom, boom, boom, look around
There's no more roof, no more house, no street, no town
All shot down, burnt black and brown, electrical meltdown
You hear the sound of the US bombs all around
Oh, it's a shakedown, it's a breakdown, atomic sundown
And then you know...

Correction, I need no direction
Let me go just one last time
I spent my whole life searchin' for direction
Let me go just one last time
x2

One last time
