

Fallen

Random Eyes

I see your tears are falling down like never before
You little heart is filled with pain
You can't carry it anymore
You look at the mirror in the night
What can you see?
The cover of angel wasted away with the tears in her eyes
Can you change your way?

Fallen fallen angel
Don't you see your wings have broken
Burning burning in the fire
The flames are trying your heart
Your time will come
You'll find the peace in love

I see you're hanging on the streets alone
It's cold and rainy night
Gloomy face tells everything to me
I feel sorry for your life
Seeking for love searching for harmony of your spirit and soul There's still the One who can wipe your tears and give you the life
It's up to you tonight

Life is too short to waste it all away
Day will turn to night
What did you mean to say
There is the voice in your heart:
"Light will show the way"
Don't let it be
You can make the change today
