

Soldier

Random Eyes

Time flies
The future left behind Fall after fall you think this circle never stop turning
In the heat of the night
The beat of your life
A restless heart keeps searching
You don't care what is coming

After all you are alone
Everything is stripped away
Then you'll see you are lost in your mind

Call on me and I will be the soldier against the beast of night Hands of evil try to break my way
I hold the sword of victory
I see the shadows from hell
This spirit deep inside of me is stronger than the evil in this world

Wasted souls
longing for the rain
You walk in silence and you hear the words never spoken Tired eyes
Staring at the moon Nightmares from your past are calling your name

You have seen where you have been Open your eyes and realize Come back for the love and forgiveness
