

Tomorrow Will Come

Random Eyes

I write this song to you because you are a friend of mine
I care about your life
I wanna feel the pain you feel My heart is thankful to my God that I've met a friend like you Please God I pray give the blessing to you

Sometimes black clouds gather in the sky
And we can't see the day
I know you've been waiting a long long time
God sees it all, He sees it all

Tomorrow will come
The sun will rise in the morning and a new day will get you to smile again you'll get to smile again
Tomorrow will come
Night time has gone away and the new day will get you smile again get you to smile again

Sometimes it's hard to understand His ways and love in our lives
Like footprints in the sand He'll carry the burden I will stand by your side like a brother you know I love you like a friend

Think of the time when you were child You played you games safe in your world
Under the summer sun
Like birds in the sky
I know you felt the freedom
Under the summer sun
