

Power of a Song

Randy Houser

He hadn't told his kids, he hadn't told his wife
He made plans to leave it all, leave it all behind that night,
He had his car gassed up, he had his suitcase packed
He planned to hit the road, he hid it hard to not look back
He made it 40 miles outta town
And turned on that radio and turned that car around

That's the power of a song
It grabs you by the heart
It's gonna find you when it wants to
No matter where you are
That's the miracle of music
Love's the only thing as strong
That can move you when you hear it
That's the power, the power of a song

His voice inside her head said, you're not strong enough
But in her heart she knows, that love shouldn't hurt that much
Knew what her future held like, in the back of his hand
She tried a hundred times, but she couldn't leave that man
She made it 40 miles out of town
And turned up that radio and never turned that car around

Well, that's the power of a song
It grabs you by the heart
It's gonna find you when it wants to
No matter where you are
That's the miracle of music
Love's the only thing as strong
That can move you when you hear it
That's the power, the power of a song

That's the miracle of music
Love's the only thing as strong
That can move you when you hear it
That's the power, the power of a song
