Randy Rogers Band

Well this is pretty low, it ain't the bottom Still a long way to go, could I get you to follow It all comes down to this just give me a reason Cause I know I'll know I'll never win, we could break even

Cause I really don't care, I really don't care whose side I'm o

Cause there is always room at the bottom once the line's been d

And I know I'll never win, just let me go on believing But there is still a chance that we could break even

Well this is gonna hurt, I can ease your pain
Cause once you've felt the fire you don't mind the rain
If you go down, down, down out in the deep end
Could you pull me up just enough to break even

Cause I really don't care, I really don't care whose side I'm o

Cause there is always room at the bottom once the line's been d rawn

And I know I'll never win, just let me go on believing But there is still a chance that we could break even

There's still a chance, still a chance she could save me There's still a chance I'll just bring you down

Cause I really don't care, I really don't care whose side I'm o

Cause there is always room at the bottom once the line's been d rawn

And I know I'll never win, just let me go on believing But there is still a chance that we could break even There is still a chance that we could break even

Yeah
