

I'm Still Here, You're Still Gone

Randy Travis

The sun comes up, you're still gone
The world goes round, and life goes on
But life is short, and love is long
And when the sun goes down, you're still gone

Now ain't it strange, how we make things right
We think things change, overnight
But then the sun comes up, and the night moves on
And I'm still here, you're still gone

I guess I missed the point
I thought I was doin' right
I'd get up early in the mornin'
And work into the night
I was always makin' money
I shoulda' been makin' love
Now the man I am today knows
That money ain't enough

But if I had the chance, to give one more thing
It wouldn't be a rose or a diamond ring
'Cause you showed me, where I went wrong
'Cause I'm still here, and you're still gone

Hey, I guess I missed the point
I thought I was doin' right
I'd get up early in the mornin'
And work into the night
I was always makin' money
I shoulda' been makin' love
Now the man I am today knows
That money ain't enough

The sun comes up, and you're still gone
The world goes round, and life goes on
And you showed me, where I went wrong
'Cause I'm still here, you're still gone
Yes, I'm still here, and you're still gone...
