A Corpse Is Forever

Ravenous

Sifting past worms
Stroke her cold skin
A staring lifeless gaze
Through slits sewn chut

Ripping off her burial dress Nipples decayed and stiff A body pure and willing Without a word from her lips

Our coffin is sacred
Aged with cum and soil
A love that can't be severed
Because a corpse is forever

Her dried flesh resists
As my erection slips through
I swear she is smiling
With a face so pale and blue

I keep her in the basement So were never disturbed My funeral lover Chemically preserved